

Yoleetah Ilodi, M.D.

Assistant Dean of Diversity

Yoleetah Ilodi, M.D. is the Assistant Dean of Diversity in the College of Medicine. Dr. Ilodi provides leadership, oversight and strategic vision for policies and initiatives to promote inclusive and equitable learning and working environment for students, faculty and staff in the College. She leads efforts to ensure that the College achieves its expectations for diversity and maintains an environment that welcomes and fosters inclusivity.

Dr. Ilodi is an associate professor of internal medicine, a graduate of the Fellowship in Academic Medicine and serves on the COM admissions committee. She currently practices internal medicine and geriatrics for Summa Health, where she is the lead physician for inclusion and recruitment for medical education.

Dr. Ilodi earned her medical degree from the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine. She completed her internal medicine training at Summa Health, where she also completed a fellowship in geriatric medicine.